This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EXPLANATORY NOTICES.

Explanation of the column headed "Thermometrical Register."

The Thermometrical Register commences with Nov. 1851, and closes with Oct. 1852, inclusive. These registers have been carefully copied from those made at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, and which are also deposited with the Royal Society. They show the highest and lowest ranges within each twenty-four hours, from twelve different readings. Each month is placed with its corresponding month, as affording the most ready and advantageous means of comparison, although by this arrangement the register of the last two months of 1851 follows the ten months of 1852, which are all we can give up to the day of publication.

Explanation of the columns headed "Length of day," "Day's increase or decrease," "Day breaks," and "Twilight ends"

The column headed "Length of day" contains the number of hours and minutes between sunrise and sunset. The column headed "Day's increase" expresses the number of hours and minutes which the day has increased since the shortest day; and, where the column is headed "Day's decrease," it expresses the number of hours and minutes which the day has decreased since the longest day; for example, the length of the longest day in 1853 is put down in the column "Length of day" at 16h. 34m.; and on the 6th of July following we find that the length of the day, or the number of hours and minutes between sunrise and sunset, is set down at 16h. 23m.; hence the day has decreased 11m. since the longest day, and, accordingly, in the column "Day's decrease," we find opposite July the 6th 0h. 11m.

Registration.—Births—Persons should cause their children to be registered within forty-two days after birth, by giving personal notice to the registrar of their district, without any fee whatever.

Deaths.—Intimation should be given of deaths in the same manner as births. This is of importance to be done early, as the undertaker must have a certificate to give to the minister who reads the funeral service, without which he may refuse to bury the body.

As the cause of death is to be entered, sound discretion should be exercised in ascertaining the real nature of the deceased's death, for which important purpose every facility should be given.

* The Monthly List of Fairs is only a selection of the more important ones. When they fall on Sunday they are usually held the day after. We have also added a few of the German Fairs which are of commercial interest, each of which continues for three weeks.

MONTHLY NOTICES.

2. Candlemas-day. Scotch quarter-day.
8. Hereford—cattle, horses, and hops.

Tenancy.—A yearly tenant must take care that he gives notice to quit his premises half a year before the time of the expiration of the current year of his tenancy. If, by agreement, a quarter's notice is to be sufficient, such notice must also expire with the tenancy, if that is yearly.

Wills.—After Jan. 1838, all wills made in England came under the provisions of the new Wills Act, of which an abstract was given in British Almanac for 1838. By it, all property may be disposed of by will; all wills must be in writing, and each must be signed at the bottom or end by the testator, or, if he is unable, by some person on his behalf, by his direction, and in his presence; and two, or more, attesting witnesses (who must be present at the same time) must also sign the will. If the testator wishes to acknowledge or reward the attesting witnesses, he must do it in some other way than by bequeathing them anything: for legacies to attesting witnesses, or to the wife or husband of an attesting witness, are void. No person under twenty-one can make a valid will. Wills are revoked by subsequent marriage; otherwise a will can only be revoked by destruction, or by the making of a new one; and alterations in wills must be made in the same manner as a will is made. Wills are to be construed as if made immediately before the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention is expressed; and properties bequeathed in general terms include all property in the possession of the testator at his decease, whether acquired before or after the will was made.

[If persons make their own wills, without legal assistance, let them express themselves in a plain simple way, avoiding roundabout phrases, or attempts to imitate legal phraseology.]

The Judges are the Lord Mayor, the Lord Chancellor, the Judges, the Aldermen, Recorder, and Common Serjeant of London, and such others as her Majesty may appoint. The jurisdiction of this Court extends to all treasons, murders, felonies, and misdemeanours, including all places within ten miles of St. Paul's Cathedral. By this Act, also, offences committed on the high seas within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty of England are to be tried in this court.—The following are the sittings for 1852-53: 1852, Nov. 22, Dec. 13; 1853, Jan. 3, Jan. 31, Feb. 28, April 4, May 9, June 13, July 4, Aug. 15, Sept. 19, Oct. 24. GENERAL POST OFFICE, LONDON.

Evening Mails.

The Receiving Houses are open for general post letters till half-past five, or till six P.M., if the letters bear an additional 1*d.* stamp as a fee; and at St. Martin's-le-Grand and the Branch Offices, at Charing Cross, Old Cavendish-street, Stones' End, Southwark, and Lombard-street, till six without fee; at the first three Branch Offices, till a quarter to seven; at Lombard-street and the General Post Office, St. Martin's-le-Grand, till seven, with an additional 1*d.* stamp; and at St. Martin's-le-Grand till half-past seven P.M., with a fee of 6*d.* The extra penny on all inland letters to be paid by a stamp, but upon foreign, colonial, or ship letters the penny must be paid in money.

General post letters are charged by weight, as follows:—

Letters not exceeding	½ oz., one postage
Do.	1 oz., two postages
Do.	2 oz., four postages
Do.	3 oz., six postages;

and so on, adding two postages for every ounce; but parliamentary papers are an exception. The price of a postage is 1*d.*, which must be pre-paid by a stamp, or it will be charged double, and if the weight of the letter should exceed the value of the stamps attached, the excess will be charged double: thus, a letter weighing more than half an ounce, but not exceeding an ounce, if bearing 1*d.* stamp only, will be charged an additional 2*d.* on delivery. Shilling stamps and tenpenny stamps are also now issued.

Newspapers, to go the same day, must be put into the General Post Office before six o'clock; but those put in before half-past seven o'clock will go the same evening by paying a halfpenny with each. In the branch offices they must be put in before half-past 5, and at the Receiving Houses before 5. To go free they must be sent in covers, open at the sides, and, contain no words or communication printed after publication, nor any writing other than the name and address of the person to whom it is sent; but, by affixing a stamp conspicuously on the cover, the paper itself may be written on, but this exemption does not apply to papers sent abroad; and they may be re-directed, and sent free of extra charge. Books may be sent by post, open at the ends, at the rate of 6*d.* per pound, which must be pre-paid by stamps, every fraction being reckoned as a pound. Single books may also be sent to the following British possessions—Canada, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Bermuda, West Indies, Mauritius, British India, Ceylon, Hong Kong, Cape Town, Gibraltar, Malta, Ionian Islands, and Heligoland; under ½ lb. 6*d.*, above 1*s.*, and 1*s.* for each lb. or fraction of a lb. above, prepaid by stamps.

British newspapers go free to foreign countries where they are permitted to go free through the foreign post: where they do not, they are charged a British postage of 2*d.* each; or a rate equivalent to the foreign rate. French and Belgian newspapers are subject to a postage in England of one halfpenny. English papers pay in France a postage of 5 centimes.

Newspapers to and from the Colonies are transmitted free (unless sent by private ships), and must be posted within a week of their publication.

Morning Mails.

The Letter Boxes at the Receiving Houses will be open till seven A.M. for newspapers, and 7.45 A.M. for letters; and those at the branch offices, Charing Cross, Old Cavendish-street, and the Borough, for the reception of newspapers until half-past seven A.M., and for letters until eight A.M. At the General Post Office and the Branch Office in Lombard-street, the boxes will close for newspapers at a quarter before eight A.M., and for letters at half-past eight A.M. Mail despatched at half-past nine A.M. Letters and newspapers for Ireland, posted at any receiving office before two or any branch office before three, or at St. Martin's-le-Grand by half-past three, are despatched at five, and reach Dublin early on the following morning.

Members of either House of Parliament are entitled to receive, free of charge, petitions addressed to either House of Parliament, provided they are sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and do not exceed the weight of 32 ounces. Addresses to Her Majesty will likewise go free of postage. Nothing else free.

Letters exceeding 4 oz. in weight, must be pre-paid. With this restriction, any weight may be sent by post; but the packet must not exceed two feet in length, and nothing should be posted which will not bear the crush in the letter bags. Letters directed to bankrupts are to be delivered to the assignees for three months after the issue of the fiat.

The rate of postage for Parliamentary Papers is 1*d.* for every 4 oz. They may be also sent to Hamburg, Bremen, or Lubeck, viâ Hamburg, open at the ends and prepaid, if not exceeding 2 oz. for 1*d.*; above 2 oz. and not exceeding 3 oz. for 6*d.*; above 3 oz. and not exceeding 4 oz. for 8*d.*; and 2*d.* per oz. extra up to 16 oz.

Letters containing coin or articles of value are recommended to be registered. The fee in any case in Great Britain is 6*d.* and the postage, and to France 6*d.* and double the French postage. Such letters bearing a sufficient number of stamps will pass as paid letters, but the registration fee must in every case be paid in money.

Money orders for sums under 5*l.* are granted by every post-town upon every other post-town in the United Kingdom, on application at the various offices; and also by and upon certain offices in the metropolis, of which the postmasters are furnished with a list, for which a commission of 3*d.* for Two Pounds, and 6*d.* for any sum above Two Pounds and not exceeding Five Pounds, is charged. They must be presented for payment within the second calendar month after their issue or a fresh order will be charged for, and within the twelfth calendar month, or they will not be paid at all. Post Office Orders are recommended for small sums; and, if neither that nor registration be adopted, that all bills, notes, &c., be cut in halves, and sent by different posts; the numbers, dates, &c., should also be carefully taken. No money orders are issued or paid on a Sunday.

A money order granted upon London, without specifying any particular office in London, can only be paid at the General Post Office in St. Martin's-le-Grand. Where personal attendance is inconvenient, payment may be obtained by receipting the order and giving the bearer information as to the Christian name, surname, and occupation of the person who obtained it.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

1. MEASURE OF LENGTH.

12	Inches	=	1 Foot
3	Feet	=	1 Yard
$5\frac{1}{2}$	Yards	=	1 Rod or Pole
40	Poles	=	1 Furlong
8	Furlongs	=	1 Mile
$69\frac{1}{7}$	Miles	=	1 Degree of a Great Circle of the Earth.

An inch is the smallest lineal measure to which a name is given, but subdivisions are used for many purposes. Among mechanics, the inch is commonly divided into eighths. By the officers of the revenue, and by scientific persons, it is divided into tenths, hundredths, &c. Formerly it was made to consist of 12 parts, called lines.

Particular Measures of Length.

A Nail	=	$2\frac{1}{4}$	Inches	used for measuring cloth of all kinds.
Quarter	=	4	Nails
Yard	=	4	Quarters
Ell	=	5	Quarters
Hand	=	4	Inches	used for height of horses.
Fathom	=	6	Feet	used in measuring depths.
Link	=	7	In. 92 hdths.	used in Land Measure to facilitate computation of the content, 10 square chains being equal to an acre.
Chain	=	100	Links

2. MEASURE OF SURFACE.

144	Sq. Inches	=	1 Sq. Foot
9	Sq. Feet	=	1 Sq. Yard
$30\frac{1}{4}$	Sq. Yards	=	1 Perch or Rod
40	Perches	=	1 Rood
4	Roods	=	1 Acre
640	Acres	=	1 Sq. Mile

3. MEASURES OF SOLIDITY AND CAPACITY.

DIVISION I.—SOLIDITY.

1728	Cubic Inches	=	1 Cubic Foot
27	Cubic Feet	=	1 Cubic Yard

DIVISION II.—CAPACITY.

4	Gills	=	1 Pint	= $34\frac{3}{4}$	cub. ins., nearly.
2	Pints	=	1 Quart	= $60\frac{1}{2}$	——
8	Qts.	=	1 Gallon	= $277\frac{1}{2}$	——
4	Gall.	=	1 Peck	= $554\frac{1}{2}$	——
2	Gall.	=	1 Bushel	= $2218\frac{1}{5}$	——
8	Bush.	=	1 Quarter	= $10\frac{1}{4}$	cub. feet nearly.
5	Qrs.	=	1 Load	= $51\frac{1}{2}$	——

The four last denominations are used for dry goods only. For liquids several denominations have been heretofore adopted, viz.:—For Beer, the Firkin of 9 Gallons, the Kilderkin of 18, the Barrel of 36, the Hogshead of 54, and the Butt of 108 Galls. These will probably continue to be used in practice. For Wine and Spirits, there are the Anker, Runlet, Tierce, Hogshead, Puncheon, Pipe, Butt, and Tun; but these may be considered rather as the names of the casks in which such commodities are imported, than as expressing any definite number of gallons. It is the practice to gauge all such vessels, and to charge them according to their actual content.

Flour is sold nominally by measure, but actually by weight, reckoned at 7lb. Avoirdupois to a Gallon.

4. MEASURE OF WEIGHT.

DIVISION I.—AVOIRDUPOIS WEIGHT.

$27\frac{11}{32}$ Grains	= 1 Dram	=	$27\frac{11}{32}$ gr.
16 Drams	= 1 Ounce	=	$437\frac{1}{2}$ —
16 Ounces	= 1 Pound (lb.)	=	7000
28 Pounds	= 1 Quarter (qr.)
4 Quarters	= 1 Hundredweight (cwt.)
20 Cwt.	= 1 Ton

This weight is used in almost all commercial transactions, and in the common dealings of life.

The particular weights belonging to this Division are as follow:—

		cwt.	qr.	lb.
14 Pounds	= 1 Stone	= 0	0	14	Used in the Wool Trade.
2 Stone	= 1 Tod	= 0	1	0
$6\frac{1}{2}$ Tod	= 1 Wey	= 1	2	14
2 Weys	= 1 Sack	= 3	1	0
12 Sacks	= 1 Last	= 39	0	0

DIVISION II.—TROY WEIGHT.

24 Grains	= 1 Pennyweight	=	24 gr.
20 Pennywts.	= 1 Ounce	=	480 —
12 Ounces	= 1 Pound	=	5760 —

These are the denominations of Troy Weight when used for weighing gold, silver, and precious stones (except diamonds). But Troy Weight is also used by Apothecaries in compounding medicines, and by them the ounce is divided into 8 drams, and the dram into 3 scruples, so that the scruple is equal to 20 grains.

For scientific purposes the grain only is used; and sets of weights are constructed in decimal progression, from 10,000 grains downwards to $\frac{1}{100}$ of a grain.

Digitized by Google

By comparing the number of grains in the Avoirdupois and Troy pound and ounce respectively, it appears that the Troy pound is less than the Avoirdupois, in the proportion of 14 to 17 nearly; but the Troy ounce is greater than the Avoirdupois, in the proportion of 79 to 72 nearly.

The carat, used for weighing diamonds, is 3½ grains. The term, however, when used to express the fineness of gold, has a relative meaning only. Every mass of alloyed gold is supposed to be divided into 24 equal parts; thus the standard for coin is 22 carats fine, that is, it consists of 22 parts of pure gold, and 2 parts of alloy. What is called the new standard, used for watch-cases, &c., is 18 carats fine.

5. ANGULAR MEASURE;

OR, DIVISIONS OF THE CIRCLE.

60 Seconds	= 1 Minute
60 Minutes	= 1 Degree
30 Degrees	= 1 Sign
90 Degrees	= 1 Quadrant
360 Degrees, or 12 Signs	= 1 Circumference.

Formerly, the subdivisions were carried on by sixties; thus, the second was divided into 60 thirds, the third into 60 fourths, &c. At present the second is more generally divided decimally into 10ths, 100ths, &c. The degree is frequently so divided.

6. MEASURE OF TIME.

60 Seconds	= 1 Minute
60 Minutes	= 1 Hour
24 Hours	= 1 Day
7 Days	= 1 Week
28 Days	= 1 Lunar Month
28, 29, 30, or 31 Days	= 1 Calendar Month
12 Calendar Months	= 1 Year
365 Days	= 1 Common Year
366 Days	= 1 Leap Year

In 400 Years, 97 are leap years, and 303 common.

The same remark as in the case of angular measure applies to the mode of subdividing the second of time.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACT AND ITS OPERATION.

IT has long been admitted—indeed, evidence of so voluminous and irresistible a character has been accumulated, both in the pages of the valuable and comprehensive Sanitary Report of 1842, and in a variety of publications since that time, that conviction could not be withheld from the fact—that a fearful amount of loss of life is constantly occurring, all over the country, from causes that are entirely PREVENTIBLE; and that in England alone every day's delay in the adoption of proper sanitary measures occasions the needless loss of nearly 140 human lives. This, however, is not by any means the extent of the evil. In addition to that loss of life (which, from filth and bad ventilation alone is calculated to be greater than the loss from death or wounds in any wars in which this country has been engaged in modern times), there is a terrible amount of unnecessary sickness, especially among the lower orders, resulting in poverty and privations that language cannot depict; that the duration of existence among the labouring classes is very materially abridged by evils that might be easily removed, or entirely obviated; that, of nearly 50,000 cases of widowhood, and more than 100,000 cases of destitute orphanage, relieved from the poor's rates in England and Wales alone, the greatest proportion of the deaths of heads of families occurred from causes which would disappear in the presence of proper and perfectly practicable sanitary measures of precaution; and that such enlightened and scientific measures may be carried into complete and effective operation, not only at an actual and very important economy of all existing charges and liabilities, but with a saving, not only of human life, but also of human suffering, health, and energy, as well as with an increase of moral improvement and elevation of the humbler classes generally, that cannot well be appreciated even by the most sanguine of philanthropists. Works of sanitary improvement, even of a partial extent and of limited application, have shown in a most striking and successful manner their invariably happy results in all these respects; while the still more recent adoption of combined works of drainage and water supply in districts under the Public Health Act, have confirmed the expectations entertained of the operation of such works.

Lord John Russell, at the time of the adoption of the above mentioned Act, justly described it, as "a measure touching upon an untrodden field of legislation, and which, in the present state of our social relations, is likely to produce the greatest benefits to this empire." It has now been in operation in various parts of the kingdom, and has already effected very marked improvements in the condition of the places to which its provisions have been applied, and in the health of their inhabitants. The works requisite to be adopted fully to carry out the intentions of the Statute, demand, of course, in large towns, some considerable time to complete; but wherever they have been efficiently perfected, the result has, thus far, been most satisfactory to all who have the best means of judging of their utility, comfort, and healthful tendency. Prejudice has frequently been raised against the Act by the assertion, that its main principles involved centralization and an interference by the State in the direction and management of local affairs. Nothing can be more erroneous than such a notion. The local authorities who have the administration and carrying out of the Act when it is applied to any place (except in Corporate Towns, where the Town Councils have, as a matter of course, those duties allotted to them when the Act is introduced) are elected by the rate-payers and owners of property in the locality, and by them alone. They have the power of electing whom they may think fit; and each Local Board is annually changing some of its members, so that instead of the self-elected bodies who have too often had entire and irresponsible control of such affairs, despite the wishes of the inhabitants at large, the Public Health Act provides for really popular and openly elected Boards, to whom local sanitary works and arrangements are exclusively entrusted. The General Board have no power of interfering, except, First, in the case of the removal of the Surveyor, which requires their approval before it can be effected; Secondly, in the appointment or dismissal of the Officer of Health, in either case their sanction being necessary; Thirdly, in prescribing the scale of maps exhibiting systems of sewerage; Fourthly, in the mortgage of rates, where the General Board have the important duty of seeing that the works are calculated to be enduring and worth their proposed cost, and to protect minorities, absentees, and reversioners, from unskilful, inefficient, or extravagantly expensive undertakings. There is also vested in the General Board the power of hearing appeals in certain instances where parties may deem themselves aggrieved by the decision of any Local Board. These provisions of the Act, however, do not place the local authorities, who may be entrusted with the execution of the measures, under the dictation or exposed to the interference of the General Board, as has frequently been asserted. The Act confers no centralizing powers, though it allows interposition under some circumstances to prevent improper and wasteful expenditure: indeed, it confers increased, instead of diminishing previously existing powers on rate-payers to manage and superintend their own local affairs; and it furnishes them with the means of entrusting the direction of those affairs to Local Boards of their own choice (under a greatly improved, open, deliberate, and fair system of election, which might and doubtlessly will ultimately be adopted far more extensively with immense benefit to the elector and the elected), and of annually appointing fresh members in substitution of those who have, in their order, to retire from office. This surely is a somewhat more liberal and preferable system than that of the irresponsible and, frequently, self-elected bodies who have too often been created under Local Acts.

Another important feature of the system introduced and now in successful operation in various parts of the country, under the Public Health Act, is not only the lasting economy resulting from the combined works carried out under its provisions, but also the economy effected in obtaining the application of the Act itself to any particular district. The general average cost of obtaining that Act, wherever a provisional order, sanctioned by Act of Parliament, has been required (in consequence either of the change of existing boundaries, or of local Acts existing in the district, to which the Public Health Act has to be applied), has been 126*l.*; while an Order in Council, applying the same Statute to places where no local Acts exist, and where no change of boundary is requisite, has on the average been obtained at a cost of £90. The contrast is striking, when reference is made to the expense during the last session of Parliament, of obtaining Local Improvement Acts in the ordinary way, for, from an official return, it is shown that the average cost of such Acts has been no less than 2,425*l.* Several of these latter Acts, moreover, were for single and specific objects, such as the authorisation of gas or water works; whereas the confirming Acts obtained under the authority, and for the application of the Public Health Act, at less than one-twentieth of the outlay, comprehended the subjects of the sewerage, drainage, and supply of water, the burial grounds, and various other important matters in connexion with the sanitary state of the respective districts to which the provisions of the Act were applied.

Among the districts in which the various combined sanitary works are now in full operation may be mentioned, as examples, Croydon, Sandgate, Barnard Castle, Hitchin, and Tottenham; while in numerous other places, such as Lancaster, Launceston, Ormskirk, Penrith, &c., the works are in rapid progress, and are expected before long to furnish the inhabitants with the comforts which have hitherto been the somewhat expensive luxuries of a constant supply of pure, wholesome, soft water, of good and complete drainage, and all the various advantages that result therefrom.

On Thursday, the 11th December, 1851, the first inauguration of combined works of water supply and drainage, under the Public Health Act, was celebrated at Croydon—a place that early petitioned the General Board of Health for the application of that Act to its district, and which, by the energy and skill shown by the Local Board and its officers in carrying out the necessary works, had the gratification of being the first town in England which could boast of having complete works of water supply and drainage. The Archbishop of Canterbury, supported by the members of the General Board, and a large number of gentlemen interested in the cause of sanitary advancement, assisted on the occasion. It may be here briefly stated, that the Cornish engines, each of twenty-four horse power, constructed for the elevation of the water for the supply of Croydon from the well into a high reservoir, combine the advantages of the common high and low pressure steam engines, and have been found in the long experience of the Cornish miners to be the most economical in pumping water to great heights. In the engines erected at Croydon, the steam is generated by a fire placed in the centre of the boiler (the water thus surrounding it) instead of being underneath the boiler, as in the ordinary mode. Each engine lifts from the well into the reservoir on Park Hill about 40 gallons of water at every stroke of the piston, and by the use of only 112 lbs. of coals it raises into the reservoir (140 feet above the well) about 50,000 gallons of water, a quantity sufficient for the daily supply (allowing an average of 25 gallons to each house). The water in the well possesses less than 18 degrees of hardness, while by merely boiling (as for the purpose of tea making, brewing, washing, &c.,) it is reduced to four degrees of hardness or rather softness, for when in this state it approaches the softness of rain water. The reservoir, it may be added, is a vast tank, of massive and cemented brickwork, 30 feet deep, exclusive of the dome, which is nearly 20 feet more. It is circular, 75 feet in diameter, paved with stone, and lined with Portland cement, and capable of containing 900,000 gallons of water. The whole is embedded in an artificial mound. The new sewers were, at the time of the inauguration, only partially constructed; but the Local Board have, since that time, continued energetically and successfully to proceed in rendering Croydon an effective example of the practical operation of scientifically-designed and ably-executed combined works of water supply and drainage.

The Sandgate combined Public Works of Drainage and Water Supply were opened in the course of last autumn. The water supplied by the new works is drawn by means of deep drains from the neighbouring hills, and conducted thence to covered tanks, at a suitable height for delivery, and is obtained at an average hardness of seven degrees. It is fully expected that when the tanks and pipes have been a little used the water will be delivered in a state of perfect purity, without any filtration, and at a cost less than the cost of deriving similar supplies from pumps. The Local Board have determined to abolish all cesspools, and to introduce water-closets in every house and cottage; an arrangement which, it is calculated, will be less expensive than the cost of cleansing cesspools, while the injurious and poisonous effects of the latter are productive of the worst results upon the health of the people who live around and amid them.

At Tottenham also combined sanitary works have, within the last few months, been brought into operation. These works, we may state, comprehend 8 3-10th miles of sewer mains and sub-mains, and 10 miles of water mains and branches, furnished with 170 hydrants, together with two steam engines and pumps, and two reservoirs. These have been executed at a cost of about 7,500*l.*; and it is stated, that the charge for water supply (which is obtained from the deep springs, and is of a pure, soft quality) will be regulated with a view to defray merely the current expenses, and will probably not exceed, upon the average, 2*d.* per week per house. The sewers are formed of glazed stoneware tubular pipes. The largest do not exceed 18 inches, with curved bends and oblique joinings for all the branches, and laid on the plan termed "back drainage." The water is wholly protected from exposure to the sun and atmosphere, and is supplied constantly at high pressure, the pipes being always full and subject to the pressure of the water in the summit reservoir.

Barnard Castle affords another example of the successful practical working of the improved system of Drainage and Water Supply, under the Public Health Act. In that town, the serious loss of life from cholera, in 1848, called the serious attention of the inhabitants to the necessity of setting their habitations in better order, and of improving the general condition of the place, so as to remove all those nuisances and evils which so much encourage epidemic diseases in general, and lead to so fearful and unnecessary a sacrifice of human life. An inquiry was instituted there, upon petition from the rate-payers, and the requisite works of drainage and water supply have since been successfully completed. These combined works comprise 9,269 yards, or 5 miles and 469 yards of iron pipes, or 9 miles and 242 yards altogether of earthenware pipes and iron pipes for the water supply of the district. The number of hydrants is 75, and of fire-plugs 50; while there have been laid of sewerage works, a total length of 5,519 yards, or 3 miles and 239 yards of pipes, ranging from 6 inches to 15 inches in diameter.

The cost of the combined works, as nearly as can at present be ascertained, is as follows:—

For water supply, including landowners' charges	4,000	0	0
Drainage, including damages, &c. . .	1,760	0	0
Total for the combined works . . .	£5,760	0	0

The water supply (from the "Stoneykeld" springs) is very plentiful, the quality soft, clear and pleasant to the taste, and well adapted for drinking, washing, and other domestic purposes. It has, moreover, another and somewhat curious effect, which holds out every prospect of being of vast and permanent usefulness to an important branch of the manufactures of the town. It is a novel and striking proof of the value of pure soft water, that the supply now brought to Barnard Castle from the Stoneykeld springs has already been found very valuable for dyeing purposes by the carpet manufacturers of that place. Specimens of the dyes obtained by the use of the waters of the Tees, even when subject to a purifying process, and those obtained by the use of the new water-supply, unfiltered, and used just as issued from the service pipe, have been shown to the Local Board. The superiority of the latter in producing intensity and brightness of colour is very apparent, and is expected to have a beneficial effect upon the trade of the district. It is fully believed, that the uncertainty and difficulty hitherto experienced in producing the same delicate colours (as in dyeing to pattern) will now be entirely avoided by the purity and softness of the water which the manufacturers have at their command. It may also be remarked (for though the matter may, at first sight, seem somewhat unimportant, it is really one of considerable saving and of increased domestic comfort), that in the article of tea alone the saving by the use of this water, in preference to the ordinary pump water in the town, is to the extent of one-fourth of the whole quantity of tea consumed, and there are few families who in this and the article of soap may not save a much greater annual amount than the sum which they will have to pay yearly toward the combined works, from which such comfort and sanitary improvement have already resulted and must, to a far greater extent, inevitably follow. The total expense of combined works of drainage and water supply, and of private improvement works (such as water-closets to each tenement, &c.) will not amount, on an average of eleven small cottages in the Barnard Castle district, to more than 2¼*d.* per week. For this sum (so trifling compared with the advantages obtained in return for it), the inhabitants enjoy effectual drainage, and a constant supply of pure soft water for all domestic and sanitary purposes. The rates, however, have been so arranged, that only about 1¼*d.* weekly will have to be paid by the tenant.

Such are some instances of the successful practical application and working of the Public Health Act in places where it has been followed out in an intelligent and effective manner. The result of these several trials cannot fail to encourage numerous other districts to go and do likewise, the more especially when time shall have shown (as every day is showing) the numerous and oftentimes unexpected ways in which the original outlay is an actual and lasting economy, not only directly in money, but indirectly in the still more important objects of the health, the happiness, the morals and the very lives of the inhabitants.

The saving of human life, which would certainly result from the extensive adoption of complete sanitary measures, may be illustrated in an interesting and impressive manner by the experience at the Metropolitan Buildings, (Model Lodging House,) Old Pancras Road. That admirable establishment has now been open nearly five years, and contains a fixed population, of whom many are labourers and mechanics. Up to May 31, 1851, the yearly mortality had been somewhat more than 2 per cent. of the inmates, which, though high, is less than the average mortality of England. This apparently high mortality arose from the very large number of children in the place, being treble the proportion of children under 10 in London generally. Recent results are even more remarkable; for during nineteen months, up to October, 1852, with an average population of 640, and the large proportion of children remaining the same, there have been only thirteen deaths, 1·2 per cent. per annum, or at the rate only of 12 in the thousand. The rate of mortality in England and Wales at present is 2·2, or 22 in the thousand; in the Metropolis it is 2·39, or nearly 24 in the thousand; in Liverpool it is 3·43, or upwards of 34 in the thousand. If the mortality in the whole of the Metropolis had, during 1851, been in the same proportion as in the Metropolitan Buildings, the deaths, instead of being 55,354, would have been only 29,485; that is, 25,000 lives would have been saved! The total deaths in England and Wales for the same year were 395,933. Had the mortality been in the same proportion as in the Metropolitan Buildings, the deaths would have been only 215,073; that is, there would have been a reduction for all England and Wales of 179,860 deaths.* These are surely powerful arguments in favour of and incentives to the extensive and prompt adoption of complete sanitary measures!

There have now been upwards of 260 petitions presented to the General Board of Health, from places in England and Wales, praying for the application of the Public Health Act. Among those presented in the course of the last year may be mentioned, petitions from Keswick, Basingstoke, Littlehampton, Bishops Auckland, Heanor, Lynn, Heckmondwicke, Windhill, Batley, Camborne, Shirley, Eastwood, Street, Kingston-on-Thomas, Bromyard, Garston, Hessle, Arnold, &c.

In the first session of 1852, two confirming Bills were passed which authorised the application of the Public Health Act to several important places, viz.:—

Woolwich	Leamington
Salisbury	Newbury
Walsoken	Worthing
Wisbeach	Worksop
Ashby-de-la-Zouch	Gainsborough
Rotherham and Kimberworth	Banbury

Those Acts also authorised extended boundaries in the districts (already placed under the Public Health Act, by orders in Council) of Burnham, Calne, and Stratford-upon-Avon.

During the same period (1852), the Public Health Act was put in force, by virtue of Orders in Council, within the several districts of Kirkham, in the County of Lancaster; of Witham, in the County of Essex; Poulton, Bare and Tarrisholme (Lancaster); Baildon, in the County of York; Bromyard, in the County of Hereford; and Halstead, in the County of Essex.

Just before the late recess of Parliament, December, 1852, a Bill was introduced into the House of Commons proposing the application of the Public Health Act to various other places, such as Wakefield, Brighton, Wallasey, Welshpool, &c.

The "First Public Health Supplemental Act, 1852," passed in the course of the last session, contained two clauses which settled points that had been previously left undecided, and had led to considerable inconvenience. The former of these clauses enacted, that the term "Highway," in the sections of the Public Health Act, 1848, numbered respectively 68 and 69 in the copies of the Act printed by the Queen's printers, should mean "any highway repairable by the inhabitants at large;" while the other clause declared, that the word "Year" should, for the purpose of the election of Local Boards of Health, acting in execution of the Public Health Act, 1848, and of the continuance in office of the members of such Boards, "be taken to mean the interval between any day of election of any such Board and the day of election next ensuing."

These remarks upon the recent progress of the Public Health Act and its practical working in the districts where the energy and perseverance of Local Boards have introduced its various advantages and economies, cannot be better succeeded than by the following observations upon the beneficial results which, it is justly estimated, must flow from the judicious and persevering application of the several admirable provisions of the Statute. Some of the most obvious and conspicuous advantages resulting from the operation of that "Sanitary Reform" Act, have indeed been so powerfully described by the Registrar-General, that the following passages from his observations thereon, may appropriately be quoted here. From his peculiar position and opportunities, the opinions of that authority cannot but possess great weight and worth on such a question. Without contending that the details of the Statute admit of no improvement (for in many respects they urgently demand amendment) he states his conviction that "the Public Health Act is an excellent measure, and well calculated to diminish the evils which have been discovered, and of which the effects have been recorded in the periodical returns. It is no innovation on the institutions of the country, and rests on no new-fangled doctrines. It extends the rule of a cabinet minister from 'possessions' which Mr. Burke declared 'fitter for the care of a frugal land steward than of an office in the state,' to the domain of national health, which has always held the first place in the meditations of legislators; it concentrates offices, that ought not to be separated, in the hands of the municipal authorities, still maintained in close connexion (as they always have been) with the Crown; it seeks to secure water, pure air, and a little sunshine, for the inhabitants of cities now so large, active, and important a part of the population, and to extend to the house and street of the tradesman, artisan, and labourer, a share of the advantages which elsewhere are the boon of nature, by the use of means which have been suggested by science, and sanctioned by long experience."—It is a gratifying fact, that some 260 of the towns, &c., of England and Wales have already voluntarily taken steps to "secure water, pure air, and a little sunshine," through the medium of this Act; and that in a large proportion of them extensive works have been commenced (and in many instances are already completed) to carry out fully the various and valuable objects which the framers and promoters of that enlightened Statute had in view in constructing and submitting it for legislative sanction.—Another impressive testimony has been borne to the vast utility of the Act by the Local Board of Health for Barnard Castle, who, after describing their proceedings under it, state their conviction that they "have now laid the basis and foundation of a thorough improvement in the town, and for placing it in a condition, as far as sanitary means avail, for securing the health and happiness of its inhabitants. By the combined operation of the sewers and waterworks, if properly attended to, and by strenuous efforts to enforce house connexion with the main sewers, and the establishment of water-closets, all noxious refuse will be washed away from the residences of the people. Filthy privies, cesspools, and flat-bottomed imperfect drains, will no longer be allowed to reek with pestilent gases, and pollute the atmosphere. Fresh, soft, and well aerated water, unpolluted by the filth of drains and rivers, will be brought to every house, and be available to such an extent that the poorest man will have no excuse for want of cleanliness. Baths, public and private, will be placed within the reach of all; ready means for meeting the calamity of fire, and for preventing the loss of property and life by that element, are provided abundantly in every street, and a great step taken towards enabling the inhabitants to enjoy the blessings of social life, and the benefits in commercial and other points of view of residence in populous places, without risk and danger from those diseases which ever commit their fiercest ravages in connexion with the nuisances which have too long been the constant feature of towns." These are not the over-sanguine anticipations of enthusiasts, for experience has in several instances already proved, that the advantages above enumerated have been speedily realised in places where combined works of water supply and drainage have been intelligently and scientifically carried out. It is a fact, and a most gratifying one, that, in more than one instance, the Local Board, so far as they have proceeded, have found that the improved system is as remarkably superior to the old arrangements in economy, as it is in efficiency, inasmuch as a complete system of sewers upon the old plan of brick tunnels, wide enough for men to pass through, would have entailed an enormous expense; while the pipe drains have generally cost so little that it is probable that the rates levied to repay their cost will not much exceed the former expense of cleansing and maintaining cesspools, &c., &c., to say nothing of the original expense of constructing those nuisances, and the constant loss of health and of life itself resulting from their injurious and poisonous emanations.

The question of sanitary advancement and improvement is ever one of great moment, whether regarded in its physical or moral bearings; but, at the present time a peculiarly painful interest and pressing importance attach to that question owing to many warnings which the Autumn furnished of the more than probable early visitation of cholera once again to these shores. In many parts of the continent, that fearful scourge has laid low its thousands of victims; and it is a significant fact for England, that the authorities of Berlin, and more especially of Hamburgh, regard the cholera as merely suspended during the winter—not extinguished. They, indeed, fully expect that, in accordance with the experience of the progress of the dread disease in Russia, that the re-appearance of Spring will be clouded by cholera breaking out afresh in an epidemic form in both those cities. Official communications, through Her Majesty's Minister at St. Petersburgh, state, that cholera had, late in the autumn, broken out in that city; that up to the date of the 16th November, there had been 583 attacks, and that of this number only 78 had recovered, while the deaths amounted to 238—facts affording melancholy corroboration of the malignity of the epidemic, and of its tendency to spread and to return to itsformer seats.*

The fearful warning afforded by the 70,000 deaths occasioned by the cholera during its last visitation in this country, has been to a great extent, lost, as regards the adoption of improved sanitary arrangements throughout the land. Ordinary epidemics, beyond all doubt, kill a far greater number than the cholera ever killed; but ordinary epidemics occasion no alarm, because they are always with us, and carry on their slaughter in a quieter and less fearfully sudden manner; but the announcement of the cholera among the people would at once compel the adoption of costly and hurried (but ineffective because hurried) measures of relief, which, if they had been carried into execution deliberately, and in a scientific and enlightened manner, would have constituted not only our best defence against—but in all probability an effectual preservation from—the attacks of the cholera, while they would also save annually hundreds of thousands of lives now constantly sacrificed to the ordinary epidemics always present among the population. Experience has proved to demonstration, that the seats of those ordinary epidemics were the seats also of the cholera, when last raging in this country; while the remedy for both the ordinary and extraordinary scourges has been proclaimed most eloquently, and in a manner to convey irresistible conviction in the fact, that wherever the common localising causes of typhus and other zymotics had been abolished by the introduction of judicious sanitary works, there the epidemic cholera was also foiled in its attempts to gain a footing, and generally without the sacrifice of a single victim to its attacks. The retreat of common epidemics, indeed, has invariably kept pace with the advance and extension of sanitary improvements. It has, indeed, been forcibly and most truly stated, that "experience warrants the conclusion, that, in as far as improved localities have become exempt from ordinary epidemics, they will resist the invasion of any extraordinary epidemic by which they may be attacked, and that, consequently, were Asiatic cholera to re-visit these, its former seats, it would be unable again to establish itself in them, since the conditions which formerly favoured its localisation have ceased to exist, and the epidemics which then preceded and prepared the way for it have been banished."*

This Society has been established to provide a Superannuation Fund for allowing £30 a year to its members and £20 a year to their Widows. It is hoped that the exertions being made to ameliorate the condition of this class of Officers will induce all those connected with the administration of the Poor Laws to become members, by so doing to ensure success, whereby all interested may when their energies fail them be enabled to end their days in comparative independence.

The above small sums are secured by small monthly payments according to age. Every Officer connected with the administration of the Poor Laws in England and Wales, whose age does not exceed Fifty-five years, is eligible to become a member, upon payment of an entrance fee proportioned to the amount of an accumulated Stock or Fund, not exceeding £2.

The affairs of the Society are vested in the gratuitous management of a Treasurer, Five Trustees, Three Auditors, and a Committee of Nine Members, to which every Member is eligible, being annually Elected by the general body. The Rules have been certified by JOHN TIDD PRATT, Esq., the Registrar of Friendly Societies, and its funds are invested in the Bank of England.

Copies of the Rules and Forms of Application to become Members will be forwarded on applying by letter, enclosing 12 postage stamps, addressed to JOHN SMEE LOCKHART, Secretary, 155, Fleet Street, London, where the Committee hold their Meetings on the Third Monday of every Month, at 4 P.M. precisely.

Dedicated, by permission, to her Majesty.

CHARLES KNIGHT'S

IMPERIAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

TO BE COMPLETED IN TWENTY VOLUMES.

Mr. CHARLES KNIGHT proposes, as the Proprietor of the Copyright of "THE PENNY CYCLOPÆDIA," to concentrate his chief exertions upon the superintendence and issue of a NEW CYCLOPÆDIA FOUNDED UPON THAT NATIONAL WORK—a Cyclopædia which should add the excellence of the best typography to the acknowledged literary merit of its predecessor; be subjected to the most careful revision; and comprise additions, comprehending EVERY ADVANCE IN KNOWLEDGE to the time of its publication. In this New Cyclopædia all previous errors will, as much as possible, be corrected—all hasty opinions expunged—imperfect methods superseded—disproportion remedied by enlargement or condensation—and completeness, in so far as such a work can be complete, aimed at, if not wholly attained.

"The Penny Cyclopædia" had one alphabetical arrangement, including all branches of knowledge, from A to Z. "THE IMPERIAL CYCLOPÆDIA" will be published in TWO DIVISIONS and ONE SUB-DIVISION each having its own alphabetical arrangement, and forming, in fact, CYCLOPÆDIAS OF DISTINCT DEPARTMENTS OF KNOWLEDGE, which may be subscribed for as separate works. The One Division comprehends all those subjects which form the exclusive contents of the earlier Encyclopædias (such as the folio editions of Chambers), which were designated as Dictionaries of Arts and Sciences. The subjects of Geography, History, and Biography, did not enter into their plan. These subjects will be comprised in a Second Division. The one Division, by a large generalisation, may be called Scientific,—the other, Literary.

LITERARY DIVISION.

THE CYCLOPÆDIA OF GEOGRAPHY, HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, ETC.

TO BE COMPLETED IN THIRTY-SIX PARTS, AND IN NINE VOLUMES,

At the SUBSCRIPTION PRICE of Three Shillings and Sixpence each for the Parts, and Fifteen Shillings for the Volumes.

Part I. Published October 1, 1852.—To be continued Monthly, and finished in Three Years.

SCIENTIFIC DIVISION.

THE CYCLOPÆDIA OF SCIENCES AND ARTS.

TO BE COMPLETED IN THIRTY-SIX PARTS, AND IN NINE VOLUMES,

At the SUBSCRIPTION PRICE of Three Shillings and Sixpence each for the Parts, and Fifteen Shillings for the Volumes.

Part I. will be published January 1, 1853.

To be continued Monthly, and finished in Three Years.

SUB-DIVISION.

THE CYCLOPÆDIA OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

Illustrated with numerous Steel Engravings and Maps.

TO BE COMPLETED IN EIGHT PARTS, AND IN TWO VOLUMES,

At the SUBSCRIPTION PRICE of Three Shillings and Sixpence each for the Parts, and Fifteen Shillings for the Volumes.

Volume I. is Now Ready. The Parts are in course of Publication Monthly.

OFFICE OF "THE IMPERIAL CYCLOPÆDIA," 90, FLEET STREET.

Subscribers' Names are received by Mr. Knight's Agents, and by all Booksellers.

MANUALS
DUTIES OF POOR LAW OFFICERS.

BY

WILLIAM GOLDEN LUMLEY, ESQ.

OF THE MIDDLE TEMPLE, BARRISTER-AT-LAW,
FIRST ASSISTANT SECRETARY TO THE POOR LAW BOARD.

The undermentioned are now ready, viz.—

	s.	d.
MANUAL FOR THE MASTER AND MATRON OF THE WORKHOUSE,	3	6
" RELIEVING OFFICER	2	6
" TREASURER	1	6
" MEDICAL OFFICER	3	0

N.B.—The regulations which relate to Poor Law Officers are found in separate Orders of the Poor Law Commissioners, and in many distinct communications, and are for the most part intermingled with others relating to different Officers and subjects of an entirely separate character. It has appeared to be convenient to detach for the use of each Officer all that relates to him, both as regards his appointment and his duties, so that he may readily find, in his own Manual, what it concerns him to know, without having to seek for it in the larger collection.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BOARDS OF GUARDIANS AND PARISH OFFICERS

AS TO PROCEEDINGS TO BE TAKEN IN RESPECT OF THE

EMIGRATION OF POOR PERSONS AT THE COST OF THE POOR RATE.

BY WILLIAM GOLDEN LUMLEY, ESQ.

"This Work is characterised by that clearness, conciseness, and simplicity which usually mark Mr. Lumley's expositions of the Poor Law, and render them so useful to non-professional readers. The mode of procedure differs in the case of settled poor and poor people merely irremovable from the parish where they reside. But though the different forms and steps must be accurately observed, and in no case departed from, yet under Mr. Lumley's tuition they are capable of clear and easy apprehension, even by the non-professional mind. This really useful Work deserves a widely-extended sale."—The Sheffield Times, 1st April, 1849.
